

A man in a light-colored military uniform with yellow epaulettes and a light blue face mask is seated at a glass-topped podium. He is speaking into a microphone. In front of him is a large, elaborate floral arrangement featuring white lilies and yellow flowers. To his left, on the podium, are two small white cups on saucers. Behind him is a black leather office chair. The background shows a large window with a view of a city skyline at night, with many lights visible. To the left of the man, there is a wooden stand holding two more floral arrangements.
